Nation-wide traders strike against Flipkart-Walmart deal

New Delhi, Amid a nation-wide traders' strike on Friday called by the Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT), the organisation submitted a memorandum to Prime Minister Narendra Modi. In response to the call for a "Bharat Trade Bandh" against the Walmart-Flipkart deal and foreign direct investment in retail, the commercial markets across the country were closed on Friday, a CAIT statement said.

The traders body submitted the memorandum and a Traders Charter to Modi urging for his intervention to stop the deal as it violates FDI Policy Press Note Number 3 of 2016 of the government, CAIT Secretary General Praveen Khandelwal said in a statement. It urged Modi to constitute a high level committee under the chairmanship of a senior Union Minister and comprising officials and trade representatives to look into the matter.

On Friday around seven crore business establishments and more than 40,000 trade associations and federations across the nation participated in the one-day strike, the traders' organisation said. Traders across the country held "dharna", demonstrations and protest marches and later submitted similar memorandums as given to the Prime Minister to their respective District Collectors, CAIT said.

The CAIT also regretted that retail trade has never been a priority although after agriculture, it is the largest employment provider and largest source of revenue for the government. "Such a stepmotherly treatment to the traders must come to an end," the statement said. On August 28, the Confederation had approached the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) against the Competition Commission of India (CCI)'s approval for the Walmart-Flipkart deal.

Consequently, NCLAT issued a notice to Walmart, enquiring about its business model. In August, Walmart Inc acquired approximately 77 per cent stake in e-commerce major Flipkart. Walmart now holds approximately 77 per cent of Flipkart, while the remainder of the business is held by other shareholders, including Flipkart co-founder Binny Bansal, Tencent, Tiger Global and Microsoft Corp. The global retail giant's investment includes $2 billion of new equity funding to help accelerate the growth of Flipkart's business. Both companies will retain their unique brands and operating structures in India, the statement said.

SBI expects 53% recovery from first list of 12 stressed accounts

Kolkata, The SBI, which has introduced an "intermediary credit review mechanism", is expecting a recovery of around 53 per cent of its exposure in the RBI's first list of 12 stressed accounts, referred to NCLT for corporate insolvency resolution, an official said on Friday. "In the 12 cases (of the first list of Reserve Bank of India) referred to the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT), we are expecting a recovery of about 53 per cent and the hair-cut will be not more than 47 per cent. "We have made adequate provisions for this and it will not impact the balance sheet. Our average provisioning for these cases will be around 55 per cent," State Bank of India (SBI) Managing Director Dinesh Kumar Khara said. He said that the lender would be able to make adequate provisions for the second list of stressed accounts by the time these cases are heard in the NCLT. "We have 75 per cent provisions already in place (for the stressed accounts) in the second list. By the time they are heard, we are confident to make 100 per cent provisions," Khara said. The lender brought in an "intermediary credit review mechanism" which critically reviews credit proposals, he said. "We have come out with new department, which is known as credit review department comprising specialists who evaluate each and every proposal. Based on their assessment, they give a decision in terms of go or no-go. It was set up about two months back," he said on the sidelines of the Banking Colloquium organised by CII. He said that the SBI has an elaborate risk review mechanism. The state-run lender is looking at 10 per cent credit growth and 15 per cent deposit growth for the current fiscal, he said, adding that corporate lending constitutes about 40 per cent of the total portfolio.

On the crisis-ridden Infrastructure Leasing and Financial Services Limited (IL&FS) he said: "As of now, we are yet to see the proposal. IL&FS has gone and filed a petition before NCLT under Section 230 of the Company's Act to seek relief. We have to wait for the outcome."

Rising oil prices could climb further: Eni CEO

Rome, Current market conditions could drive crude oil prices up "even higher" with "negative" consequences for producers and consumers, said the chief executive of Italy's oil and gas giant Eni, Claudio Descalzi. "This would be negative for all but market conditions could push prices up even higher," Descalzi told Italian daily Corriere della Sera in an interview. Oil prices eased on Wednesday but were still poised for a fifth consecutive quarter of gains. Crude price rises are being driven by the impending implementation of US sanctions to halt oil exports from Iran and a drop in exports from the major oil producer in the last three months of the year. Asked if crude oil prices could hit 100 dollars a barrel, Descalzi said: "I won't risk making a prediction."
